Photographed Notes.—These are of a dull brownish color, and the engraving indistinct or blurred. Photograph bills are never black. A surefest of any note suspected of being a photograph is to touch it with a solution of Cyanide of Potassium when it will immediately fade out and turn white if it be a photopraph.

Every counterfeit that has ever been made has one or more mistakes in it. Our aim is to show what that mistake is.

NEW COUNTERFEITS.

20s GREENBACKS.

A dangerous counterfeit. Green ink a good color, but the paper too yellow. Principal defect in the die. No clear and distinct lines around the 20. Looks more like a collection of several spots. Female well done, but the face rather coarser than the genuine.

Mutual National Bank, Troy, N. Y.

10s imitation. Well executed and likely to deceive. Shading of "United States" lighter than the genuine.

First National Bank, Boston, Mass.

5s, imitation. Well done. Signatures engraved.

First Nat'al Bank, Louisville, Ky.

5s, imitation. Columbus at the left end of the note has no left hand. Engraving rather coarse and heavy.

Second National Bank, Cincinnati, O.

10s, imitation. Well done.

Tioga National Bank, Owego, N. Y.

50s raised from 5. Well done.

First National Bank, Elmira, N Y.

100s, a very close imitation.

First National Bank, Red Hook, N. Y.

10s, imitation. Well done, and very likely to deceive.

Second National B'k, Cincinnati, Ohio.

10s. A good imitation.

First National Bank of Boston Mass.

5s, imitation. The engraving is fine and well done. The signatures of the President and Cashier are engraved. The Seal of the Treasury is a fac similie of the genuine. Examine the wording of the penalty on the lower corners of the back of the note. The bill is well calculated to deceive.

Flour City Nat'l B'k, Rochester, N. Y.

10s, imit. This bill is well executed, and a dangerous counterfeit. The Die on the upper right end is very pale and has a speckled appearance in the imitation instead of a dark and lined appearance, as in the genuine; observe the small curved line under word 'United;' in the imitation it connects the letters UNI, the genuine does not. The signatures are engraved, and the bill is ¼ inch longer.

10s, imitation, (SECOND ISSUE.) Well done. The letters Roc in the word ROCHESTER, at the left end of the words FLOUR CITY, are quite indistinct in the counterfeit, but in the genuine they are clear and distinct.

Third National Bank, Philadelphia, Pa.

10, imit, letter B. Observe on upper right margin of the face of the bill the small words "National Currency" between small figures 10 The word "Currency" is spelled "Curreny." The shading of the words "Will pay" and "to Bearer" are heavy in the genuine but very light in the counterfeit. Also, the "P" in "Philadelphia" in imitation, runs below the rest of the letters. Genuine does not.

First Nat'l Bank, Boston, Mass.

100s, imitation. The only way for the public to protect themselves will be not to take any $100 National Bank Notes, except they are received from sources of well known respectability. One of the peculiarities of the counterfeit we have referred to is the "T," in the word maintain, on the right hand of the bill, is defective, and looks like the letter "I." The counterfeiter, however, can soon remedy this defect.

Lynn Park National Bank, N. Y. (No such bank.)

2s. Very well done.

Raised Bills.

10s, raised from 1s. Vig. of 1s, two female figures with hands clasped, one pointing upwards. 10s have figure of Franklin drawing electricity from the clouds, and on back of bill is DeSoto discovering the Mississippi. On back of 1s is the Landing of the Pilgrims. Well done.

50s, altered from a 5. The bills were altered from $5s to 50s by pasting "50" on the 5 on the corner, and over the "five" in the centre. It will be well to look out for them.

100s raised from 5s on the National Banks are in circulation.

Highland Nat'l Bank, Newburgh. N. Y.

10s, imit. The green color is as good on the imitation as the genuine, and the dies, figures, and letteriug on the back well done. The engraving of the pictures are as coarse as wood cuts, particularly the representation of De Soto discovering the Mississippi. The river is black and the canoes scarcely discernable without a magnifying glass, while in the genuine they are plain and distinct. The female riding on the eagle on on the right end face of the bill has neither nose nose or mouth, and no toes to her feet. There are five curved lines between States and Washington in the gen. but only four in the imitation. There are four curves under Tressurer in gen. and only three in imit. Paper thin and white.

First National Bank, Portland, Me.

20s, imit. (2d kind) S. B. Colby, Register, are very finely engraved and well calculated to deceive; the engraving is much darker than the former, and has the following mistakes: the woman's face, arms and neck in the engraving of the Battle of Lexington are black, the genuine are white; the clouds back of the soldiers' heads are heavy and dark in the imit., but scarcely seen in the genuine; the Indian girl sitting on the ground (in the picture of the Baptism of Pocahontas) has a child on her lap in the genuine, but none in the counterfeit. The Indianapolis counterfeit has the child on her lap, and is more correct in design, but not in engraving. Look carefully at all 20s, as the plate can be altered to 1600 Banks by merely changing the name of the town.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23, 1868.

Money remains unchanged: 3 per cent. continues the rate on Governments, and 4@5 on miscellaneous shares, with more doing at the highest rate. Among brokers balances are let at 4 per cent as a rule, but the Trust Companies and banks exact 5 per cent, and report that they are able to loan all they have. The apprehension seems to prevail in some quarters that before the quarterly statement appears there may be an advance in rates, but no theory even of the most sanguine in high rate has placed the limit above 7 per cent. This rate would not materially affect the general stock market, but rather give it a healthy tone, as the cause would not be attributed to a scarcity of funds, but rather to the fact that large depositors, who have allowed their balances to lie idle, from want of confidence, are viewing the political combinations with more favor, and are willing to become investors. There are, however, a large class of bankers who have no faith in high rates, and who believe that exchange will rule so low that gold will begin to flow to us. It is one of the problems of the age, yet unsolved—except on the theory of manipulation—that gold should rule, as it has done for a long period, in the forties, when the Government debt has been decreased from its maximum eight hundred millions within two years, and the present indebtedness can more easily be carried than the debt of England, whose securities have so long afforded the basis of exchange for the commerce of the world. If the continued flow of gold into the Treasury should compel the Secretary to sell his surplus, the market will touch a point which will make resumption more practicable than at any period since the war.

In Government bonds there has been a large business with an advance in prices. The latest telegrams from London report the 1862's strong with an active demand. The leading dealers report an increased demand from the interior for the new bonds, and the German bankers are buying considerable amounts of 1865.

The fluctuations in gold during the week have been about 3 per cent. from 141⅜ to 141¼, closing very unsettled.

THE MERCHANTS' UNION EXPRESS ROBBERY.—Mr. Robert M. Richardson, Assistant Secretary of the Merchants' Union Express Co., made a complaint before Justice E. P. Ferris at White Plains on the 18th inst., against Putnam W. Brown (the express messenger of the Company who was in charge of the safe at the time it was robbed of $125,000 on the Hudson River Railroad in May last), and was found gagged and in an insensible condition at the time the robbery was discovered, for perjury, in swearing that the robbery was committed with violence, whereas one Dan Thompson had made affidavit that Brown and himself had concocted the robbery, and that in accordance with arrangements Brown allowed himself to be gagged and bound, and received $10,000 as his share of the plunder. Brown pleaded not guilty, and was committed to White Plains jail to await the action of the Grand Jury. On Monday, however, he was brought before Judge Cochran and admitted to bail in the sum of $5,000.

NATIONAL BANKS.

To the Editor of the Tribune.

SIR: Please show some readers of your paper how to justify the existing arrangement between the Government and the banks. The Government takes charge of their bonds, returns to them nearly all their purchase money to do business with, and pays them interest on their bonds, which seems to be equivalent to paying it on the notes lent to them to use.

To lend money and pay interest upon it to the borrower cannot but be considered a very strange method of doing business.

It appears reasonable that the interest should cease on the bonds so held by the Government, while the banks are supplied with an amount almost equal to the principal as working capital; and the transaction being optional with the banks, no breach of the National faith would be involved if such agreement were made. MYSTIFIED REPUBLICAN.

Reply by the Tribune.

1. The business of banks, in respect to their circulating notes, consists in discounting, i. e., in exchanging them for the notes of private parties, running at from thirty days to four months' time. They can only afford to do this by making a higher interest on the capital they lend than they pay for it. City banks and bankers can afford it by using moneys deposited with them on which they pay no interest. Interior and country bankers have no such resource. Their deposits are too small, and hence their ability to discount notes of private parties, by giving their own cash notes for private notes running on time, depends on their ability either to get double interest from those for whom they discount notes, or to get one rate of interest from them and one upon the securities they deposit. Obviously, if all banks were obliged to pay current rates of interest to the Government on their capital, in order to enjoy the privilege of lending it at the same rates on individual notes, the business of banking would be wound up. Our correspondent would have it that, before a banker should have the privilege of loaning him $90 at current rates of interest, he must first loan the Government $100 without interest. This, if it were possible, would be very profitable for the Government and the community, but neither our correspondent nor any other man would do banking on those terms.

2. Bankers always have issued their notes on the pledge of securities on which they drew interest. Their capital being worth one rate of interest, by getting that on their securities and an additional one on their discounts they make one rate of interest net, i. e., over and above what their capital costs them, and herein lies the essential profit of banking, without which it cannot be done.

Under the old State bank system the banks invested their whole capital in securities, deposited them as pledge for their circulation, drew interest thereon, and loaned their currency to their customers in discounting notes, on which they drew interest again. By drawing two interests on capital which cost them one, they made a net interest or profit. They could not have made a profit without it.

The question, therefore, resolves itself into the simpler one—whether we shall have any banks at all.

3. The Government has no power to stop the interest from running on the bonds held by the banks, any more than on those held by private parties. The banks have bought the bonds with capital which was their own. The bonds are in no way under control of the Government. The Government may repeal the Banking law, or perhaps prohibit all banking from being done; but these steps would only make it more difficult to borrow money, and hence increase the rate of interest.

4. The underlying question is, whether the Government or the banks ought to furnish the people with a currency. The objection to having the Government furnish the people with a currency is that the Government is not a bank, cannot discount private notes, and hence that its currency is not flexible, and does not expand with a demand for money and contract with a redundance of it, as a paper currency ought to do.

5. The Government would save nothing by issuing the currency itself instead of issuing it, as now, through the banks. This is proved by the following facts. The National Banking law limits the quantity of notes the banks can issue to $300,000,000. Of this sum the law requires them to keep 20 per cent. or $60,000,000, as a reserve. They must also keep a reserve equal to 20 per cent of their deposits, or $114,000,000 more. These deductions leave of the $300,000,000 only $126,000,000 of circulating notes on which the banks can draw interest. The interest on this sum at seven per cent would amount to $8,820,000 as the total interest on the available circulation of the banks.

To offset this, they pay into the National Treasury in taxes one per cent on their circulating notes, say $3,000,000—one-half of one per cent on their deposits, or $2,855,000. A tax on their capital stock not invested in Government bonds of $400,000, one-half of one per cent on net dividends and surplus, which for the year 1866–7 amounted to $3,300,000, and a license tax of $2 on every $1,000 of capital. Their capital being $124,000,000, this license tax amounts $248,000. The sums above named, amounting to $10,403,000 are paid into the National Treasury, beside about $8,000,000 of local and State taxes. Beside what they pay in State and local taxes, therefore, the National Banks pay to the Government $1,583,000 more in taxes than the interest on their circulating notes amounts to. In other words, they pay one and a half millions per annum for the privilege of doing a business which is indispensable to commerce and industry.

COUNTERFEIT GREENBACKS.

1s, (1st kind) can be readily detected by the inferior style of the engraving, particularly the head of Chase, The mouth is crooked, the eyes imperfect, and the hair on the top of the head resembles side hair brushed over to cover baldness. The back is of a lighter green than the genuine.

1s, (2d kind) the general appearance is very coarse and may readily be detected; green ink is very pale. On the imitation there is a BLACK STRAIGHT LINE under the red figures on the upper part of the bill; none in gen.

2s, imit., well executed. Coat of Hamilton badly done. The shirt bosom of Hamilton is very dark and uneven, but in the genuine white and plain. The shading of the words "UNITED STATES" light and broken.

5s, 10s, genuine notes without the red seal, and others reported without the usual number being printed upon them.

5s, imit., words "United States" heavily shaded. Gen. are clear, lightly shaded and plain. The words "Patented 30th June, 1857," under the words N. York are not on the counterfeit hill. All the counterfeits are letter A, and are ¼ inch shorter than the genuine.

On the new series of letter "A," around the figure of Liberty on left end is a plain black line. On the counterfeits, this line along the bottom of the figure running towards the right of the note forms two distinct lines, on gen. only ONE. But this may be a counterfeiter's dodge to have it described and alter it afterwards.

5s, imit., this bill is well calculated to deceive, and the only difference we can detect is in the die on the right end enclosing the figure 5. The genuine has three black circles enclosing the 5. The imit. has only two, and on lower right end figure 3, and on left end series 90.

10s. Paper very light, and the green ink of a lighter shade. Dated March 10th, 1862.

10s alt'd from 1s, portrait of Chase on left.

10s Imit. There are 16 small Xs on upper right margin, and only 15 on the genuine. The words "Printed by the National Bk Note Co." on lower left margin extends over 9 of the Xs on imit. and 8 on the genuine.

10s, Imit., has 14 small x's on upper right margin—16 on left. The gen. has 15 x's each side of engravers name. Portrait of Prest. Lincoln is very coarse and pale looking; imit. are dated Washington, March 10, 1862, letter C.

20s, very close imit. of gen., the engraving is good, in the center figure the foot of the female can scarcely be seen. On the left end bottom are the words "Payable at the Treasury of the U. S. at New York." The A's in payable are too small and uneven. The letter 'H' in the word 'The' is not crossed in the centre. The imprint is defective; the green ink is of too light a color.

50s, alt'd from 2s, portrait of Hamilton on left centre. The vignettes of the two-dollar and fifty-dollar Treasury note are the same. Ingenious persons are counterfeiting the body of the fifties and using the vignettes of the twos, producing a note that deceives experts.

50s, imit. observe the figures 50 on back of the bill around the margin, the 5 in the imit. runs into the 0, gen. does not. The word 'FIFTY' around the above 50 can scarcly be read. Words 'LEGAL TENDER' is very much blurred. Letter C dated March 3, '63. On the left lower corner the No. 550 instead of 50 enclosed in one circle.

50s, imit., observe the head of Hamilton, upon the face of the note, which represents the line of the waistcoat crossing the white collar at the neck. The acute angle formed by the shape of the collar, so far as it is shown, is perfect in the counterfeit note; but in the genuine the lines of the flesh were drawn by the engraver across the point of the collar at its junction with the waistcoat, for the purpose of relieving the angle of the sharpness it would otherwise have exhibited. This difference is not readily observed unless the notes are perfectly clean. The other discrepancy is in the shape of the ornaments in the border on each end of the face of the hills, and in the whole border on the back. The figures "50" are engraved on a green ground, of which the rim, in the genuine bill, is in octagonal form, rather well defined, though the angles are not sharp. The eight sides of what at first view appeared to be circles, may be easily discerned. In the counterfeit bill the border ornaments, containing the "50" are octagonal in only a very slight degree, and seem to be perfect circles. The general appearance of the counterfeit gives no indication of its true character.

100s, imit. the red figures are much larger than the figures of any Treasury Notes, the wings of the eagle are very coarse—the double rule running from it is heavier, and the curve twice as large, while there is a diagonal shading at the joint of the imprint with the rule, which does not appear on the genuine. On the right end of the back of the hill, the 100 in the circles are inverted, thus, 001. In the genuine this inversion is on the left end. The imprint, American Bank Note Co., is very uneven, and too large.

100s, imit., (2d kind) of the notes issued under the act of February, 1862, well executed. The spurious note is smaller, and the coloring on the back is paler than on the genuine hill. The words "one hundred dollars" on the right hand side of the counterfeit are smaller than on the genuine note.

100s, imit., (3d kind) the note is smaller than the genuine, the spread eagle is very coarse, and the shading of UNITED STATES is badly done. The hill is calculated to deceive.

COUNTERFEIT COUPONS.

The following are the words on the coupons: "Acts of July 17 and August 5, 1861. The United States of America will pay to bearer fifteen dollars for six months' interest due 1st January, 1867, upon bond No. 785, for $500. L. E. Chittenden, Register United States Treasury.

FIVE CENT COIN COUNTERFEITS

Are in circulation. They may be distinguished from the genuine by the softness of the metal

COUNTERFEIT FRACTIONAL CURRENCY.

Old Issue.

50s, imit., the portraits of Washington differs one from another; in the genuine they are all alike; the green color looks light and pale.

25s, imit., well executed. Look out.

2d Issue.

10s, imitation. All gen. on the top has the word "Depositaries," the imitation reads "Depositories."

50s, imit., have a pale slate color. The small barrels on lower right corner are very indistinct. The gen. have six barrels perfectly clear and plain Three on lower row, two on next, and one on top. The counterfeit barrels are black, and gen. are white.

50s raised from 5s.

3d Issue.

50o. imit.; two kinds of the new long 50 cent currency. The imitation of one kind has DISIGNATED on upper right corner instead of DESIGNATED. The second kind has designated correctly spelt, hut on the little American Shield, under the Eagle, there is a black line drawn across the upright bars of the Shield. Not so on the genuine.

25s, imit., are very pale and coarse. The letter C in cents on left end is smaller than the other letters, and too far off.

New Issue.

25, imitation. Above the words "Treasury Department," on the bottom of the hill in the genuine there is a fine DOTTED line—the counterfeits have a straight line.

25s, imit., well executed, but may be detected by the absence of a period (.) after the word Treasurer under Spinner's name; the work is better than any we have previously seen and liable to deceive unless carefully examined.

25s, well executed; head of Chittenden; where it reads "Furnished only by the Assistant Treasurers" the Assistant is spelt "Assistatn." In the genuine the shading of the letter "E" in "Five" is unbroken, while the counterfeit has a little notch in it.

50s, well executed. The engraving on the face of the note is excellent. The adverse is slightly blurred. The notes are an eighth of an inch narrower than the genuine.

50s, the "y" in "Colhy's" name crosses a line of the coat in the gennine, but not in the counterfeit.

50s, the line of stars on counterfeit between the figures "50" at the top and bottom of the back of the note have WHITE centres, while the entire stars on gennine are in green. The reading in black on the genuine note clear and distinct, while on the counterfeit the bronze is printed on the black, the words "FIFTY CENTS" being almost obliterated.

50s, well done. The last "e" in the signature of F. E. Spinner is omitted in some, and the (.) after print. on one end, and the d. after March 30.

50s. New and dangerous counterfeits of the last issue of the fifty cent fractional currency notes, which bear upon their face the head of Treasurer Spinner, have been detected by the Treasury Department. It can be detected by the absence of a period (.) after the word print on the right end, and also under the letter "d"" in "March 3d," on the left end. The paper is thicker than that of the genuine notes, and the general appearance is calculated to deceive unless closely inspected.

Counterfeit Compound Interest Notes.

50s, imit., Compound Interest Notes, have a scratchy appearance, issue of July 15th, 1864. In the imitation the words "three years after date" on the top of the hill nearly touch the words "Treasury Department," while in the genuine there is a space of 1/16 of an inch between.

2d. In the imit. the last button of Hamilton's coat is ¼ of an inch from the lower margin of the small 50s, while in the gen. the button touches the margin.

100s, Counterfeit 6 per cent. Compound Interest Notes. The engraving as well as the paper and the ink stand the comparison to the genuine. The "U" in "United States" touches the die of the "100" on the left upper corner; on the genuine there is a space of 1/16 of an inch between.

COUNTERFEIT 7.30 BONDS.

First.—The seal is slightly larger than the genuine; the red ink with which it is stamped is a shade lighter, and the points projecting from the seal are blurred and a little longer than the genuine.

Second.—The imprint at the bottom of the face of the bond is set different in the margin, there being more space given it than in the genuine.

Third.—The borders of the coupon which are attached to the counterfeit bonds are larger, while the red figures are finer than in the genuine.

Fourth.—The borders of the ornamental lathe work are blurred and somewhat indifferently executed.

Fifth.—The figures denoting the bond are slightly uneven, while the blue ink in which they are printed is a duller blue and lacks the metallic glossy appearance of the genuine.

Sixth.—The lines forming the right shoulder of the female in the central viguette do not come up to the sword, but leave a white space. In the genuine note the lines are not only more numerous, but they come clearly and distinctly up to the sword.

On the back, the cycloid work upon which the words "pay to bearer" are engraved is much darker and heavier on the counterfeit than on the genuine; the counterfeit lines are rough, while the genuine are sharp and clear. In the date of the option the "Th" after June 15th is nearer to the figures 1868 in the genuine, while in the counterfeit the "Th" is some distance from the figures.

20s raised from 5s. Well done.

20s, limit. The left hand of the soldier holding the gun does not touch "D" in "deposited." The butt of the musket on lower left corner touches the scroll work around figures "20," and the hand of the female on the man's breast, the fingers can scarcely be seen.

100s, limit. The letter "T" in the word "maintain," on the right end of the bill, looks like an "I." Very well done.

The demand for these Life Preservers being larger than at first anticipated, the Company now offer for sale the balance of the reserved working capital of $100,000. Subscriptions to which should be directed to L. MENDELSON, President, or to THEO. CROMMELIN, Secretary of the Company, 73 Cedar-street. Post-Office box 4560, New York.

BALLASTING FOR VESSELS.

This Company also call attention to their improved method of "Ballasting for Vessels," which does away with and supersedes the use of the centre-board, and furnishes the most desirable and economical mode of ballasting, and will greatly lessen the loss of life on ship-board in case of a storm, and prove equally advantageous to the owners of vessels adopting this mode of ballasting, to which their attention is respectfully solicited. A model, with the different modes of attaching the same can be seen at the Company's office, 73 Cedar-street, New York.

TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS.

We are placing the imitations of National Bank Notes under the respective banks in the body of the Reporter, as the large number of counterfeits recently put in circulation take up more space than we have room for on first and second pages. Many of these counterfeits are so well executed, (especially those of the denomination of $10 and $100,) that it is almost impossible to detect them. We would say to our subscribers, examine carefully all bills on the National Banks, as the adoption of uniform plates for this currency adds extra facilities to counterfeiters, as a good counterfeit can easily be altered to any of these banks.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Terms per square of TEN lines TEN DOLLARS per month. Bankers Cards, FIVE DOLLARS each line, per year.

TO BANK OFFICERS.

Officers of Banks are respectfully invited to address us when we are inaccurate, also to inform us of any changes in the organization of their Banks, changes in officers, &c.
